

In-flight cell phone usage is the worst idea I've heard of since allowing cell phone use on other forms of transportation. If nothing else, it will lead to air-rage. Furthermore, if you're going to sell liquor on planes, don't then enable drunks to blather next to captive victims indefinitely.